AFTER USING FOR THE LAST TIME

Sadly, nothing lasts forever, and the day will come when your appliance comes to the end of its natural life. The motor unit contains a Lithium Ion (Li Ion) battery, so you must open it up, remove the battery, and dispose of it at an authorised recycling plant. Your local authority should have a centre which accepts such waste for recycling.

To remove the battery:

- 1 Disassemble the appliance.
- 2 Unscrew the 4 screws holding the motor unit together, and split the casing.
- 3 Pull the battery out of its mount.
- 4 Clip the red wire from the top of the battery as close to the battery as you can.
- 5 Clip the black wire from the bottom of the battery as close to the battery as you can.
- 6 Cover the exposed end of each wire with sticky tape, so that they can't touch each other, or anything else.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

To avoid environmental and health problems due to hazardous substances in electrical and electronic goods, appliances marked with this symbol mustn't be disposed of with unsorted municipal waste, but recovered, reused, or recycled.
